The following paragraphs are from "THE ANCIENT VELLUM BOOK OF THE HONOURABLE ARTILLERY COMPANY," edited by Lt.-Col. G. A. RAIKES, F.S.A. by whose kind permission they are extracted.

Incorporation of the Company.

HE Honourable Artillery Company was incorporated by Henry VIII. on the 2'5th of August, 1507, under the title of the Fraternity or Guild of St. George, for the practice of military exercises and training, and "for the better encrease of the defence of this or Realme."

It has long been famous as the oldest military body in the British Empire, having been formed more than a century before any other corps. In consideration of its antiquity Her Majesty was graciously pleased to command, in General Orders dated 1st June, 1883, that it should take precedence next after the regular forces.

The Spanish Armada, 1588.

At the time of the Armada, in 1588, the Company supplied many of the officers for the forces assembled at Tilbury and elsewhere, who were styled "Captains of the Artillery Garden."

The Plague and the Great Fire, 1665-66.

In 1657, with the approval of Cromwell, it again commenced active exercises, and continued to enrol members without hindrance until June, 1665, when musters were suspended in consequence of the Great Plague. The Great Fire which broke out on the 2nd September, 1666, caused another interruption of several months, although it only reached the walls of the Artillery ground. Reference is made to forthwith made up."

Services during the Riots, 1780-1848.

The Company has always been selected to take part in all State ceremonials, such as the coronation of the Sovereign, national thanksgivings, and similar occasions, besides which it has rendered valuable service on many occasions when called out in aid of the civil power, notably during the Gordon Riots of 1780 and the Chartist Riots of 1848.

The Ancient and Hon. Artillery Company in America.

The Company is justly proud of a branch of its Corps in the New World, which was founded on the same lines, and with similar rules and regulations as the Hon. Artillery Company, on the 17th March, 1638, by Robert Keayne, who with some other members of the London corps had emigrated to New England. This distinguished regiment, now known as the Ancient and Honourable Artillery Company, of Massachusetts, is the oldest military body in America. It has its head-quarters at Faneuil Hall, Boston, and holds in many respects a position similar to that of the Hon. Artillery Company at home.

The Ancient Vellum Book.

The oldest document in the possession of the Company is a magnificent folio volume of 165 parchment pages, in which are inscribed the names of persons who were admitted members of the Company between 1611 and 1682. The greater part of these are beautifully engrossed in black letter, but the first ro folios contain the autograph signatures of the Captain-Generals and Colonels, including almost all the Sovereigns from the time of Charles II.

Fohn Milton admitted, 1635.

Amongst the enrolments one of the most illustrious names is that of John Milton, who was admitted a member on the 2nd June, 1635, being then in his 27th year. This will account for the military knowledge which his writings show that he possessed, and which some of his biographers have been at a loss to explain. The question is very fully dealt with in Masson's Life of Milton, in which the writer, after stating there were strong reasons for believing that in 1642 Milton was in the habit of spending a part of his time in military exercises, somewhere not far from his house in Aldersgate Street, says, "For accustommed to military drill and marching as Milton must certainly have been somewhere, and at some time of his life before the present,—nay, recently a daily frequenter of the London Artillery Ground, as we believe him to have been, for the purpose of instruction under Skippon and his serjeants, that might qualify him to be of some active use in the very emergency that had now arrived."

The Annual Feasts, 1620- 1685.

In 1661, the guests included the Duke of York, the Duke of Gloucester, Duke of Buckingham, Duke of Ormond, the Lord Chamberlain, the Lord Mayor and Aldermen, the Bishops of London and Worcester, and many others. In subsequent years many well-known names are found amongst those elected as stewards, amongst whom may be mentioned:—Samuel Pepys, Lord Craven, Earl of Ossory, Earl of Feversham, Marquis of Worcester, Earl of Shrewsbury, Earl Mulgrave, Lord Berkley, Earl of Thanet, Lord Lumley, Lord Allington, Duke of Albemarle, Earl of Oxford, Earl of Arundel, and Lord Falkland.

The Card (which was chosen by the Chairman and Bridge House Estates Committee from twelve other competitive designs) is ornamental in character and printed in delicate colours, to produce as far as possible the effect of a water-colour drawing. The Royal Arms are on the left and those of H.R.H. The Prince of Wales on the right, with the Arms of the Corporation of London in the centre at the top of the Card, the Armorial bearings of the Lord Mayor and Sheriffs being placed at the base. The Bridge House Emblem occupies a prominent position in the centre over a picturesque view of the Tower Bridge, which is supported on either side by figures emblematical of Grace and Strength. The Card bears the signature of Albert J. Altman, Esq., the Chairman of the Committee, whose Arms are placed at the side of his signature. The designing and printing have been executed by Messrs. Blades, EAST & BLADES, Fine Art Printers, 23, Abchurch Lane, London, E.C.

MINKERMAN, KO.

"When we went up the heights of Alma,
Through their hell-fire of shell and of shot,
We did a good day's work that morning,
And boys! a good drubbing they got."

"Inkerman."—W. C. BENNETT.

To-day is the 42nd anniversary of this famous battle which was fought on Sunday, November 5th, 1854. It has been not inaptly named "the soldier's battle," for on that memorable day manœuvring or generalship were quite out of the question. Every man fought as he thought best and wherever he could see an enemy to contend with.

The fight commenced before daybreak on a typical winter morning, cold, dark, and with a drizzling rain falling, by an attack made by a force of some 40,000 Russians, under the command of the Grand Dukes Michael and Nicholas, upon the British position, for the defence of which there were only some 8,000 men available. The battle raged for over 8½ hours with varying success, but on the whole with the British stubbornly holding their original positions. Towards the end of the fight 6,000 French came to the assistance of our worn out troops and the battle ended in the complete defeat of the Russians, who left 9,000 killed and wounded on the field.

Pages might be filled with accounts of the deeds performed in that deadly fight for, in fact, every man was a hero. The officers suffered very severely and Generals Sir Geo Cathcart, Goldie, Torrens and Strangeways were killed whilst in command of their divisions and brigades.

The Manchester Regiment was represented in the Battle by its 1st Battalion—then the 63rd foot—which lost in killed, wounded and missing 10 Officers, 9 Sergeants, 2 Drummers, and 91 Rank and File. The Lieut.-Colonel in command was killed on the field as also one of the Ensigns who carried the colours. Another Ensign whilst carrying them was mortally wounded and died a few days later, and the Adjutant was also disabled. The battalion took into action only 15 Officers and 400 of other ranks, so that it lost over 66% of its Officers and over 25% of the remainder, and its experience is typical of that of other corps engaged.

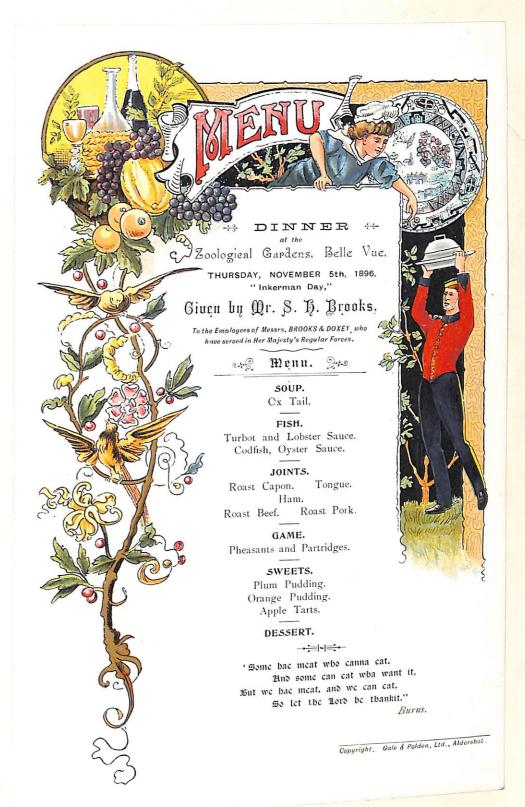

The line at this battle were armed with the percussion musket (1842) smooth bore, commonly called "Brown Bess." It was discarded in the following year.

The survivors of this hard-fought field are now becoming painfully few and those who are still serving in Her Majesty's Forces are fewer still. There are only two seated at this board to-night, and those shown in the Army List do not number a dozen. The senior in rank is Field Marshal H.R.H. the Duke of Cambridge, the last surviving divisional commander; and the senior, in point of age, is General Sir Henry Daubeney, G.C.B., born 19th December, 1810, who commanded the 55th Regiment, and subsequently the 1st Brigade, 2nd Division, at the battle, for which he was gazetted to a substantive Lieutenant-Colonelcy, but declined accepting a promotion which would have removed him from the seat of war and placed him on half-pay whilst his regiment was on active service. Of others still on the active list, who were at Inkerman forty-two years ago, the Army List contains also Field Marshal Sir Frederick Haines (Captain and Brevet-Major 21st Fusiliers), Generals Sir John Ross (Lieutenant and Adjutant, Rifle Brigade), John H. Dunne (Lieutenant, 21st Fusiliers), Sir Reginald Gipps (Lieutenant and Captain, Scots Guards), Sir Evelyn Wood (Naval Brigade), Hugh Rowlands (Captain, 41st Regiment), H. J. Buchanan (Lieutenant and Adjutant, 47th Regiment), and Sir William Stirling (Lieutenant, Royal Artillery).

The Regiments who were engaged comprised two batteries of the Royal Horse Artillery, 4th and 13th Hussars (then Light Dragoons), 8th and 11th Hussars, 17th Lancers, 2 Field Batteries Royal Artillery, Grenadier, Coldstream, and Scots Guards, Royal Scots (1st), King's Own (Royal Lancaster Regiment—4th), Royal Fusiliers (7th), The Princess of Wales's Own (Yorkshire Regiment—19th), Lancashire Fusiliers (20th), Royal Scots Fusiliers (21st), Royal Welsh Fusiliers (23rd), Gloucestershire Regiment (28th), East Lancashire Regiment (30th), Duke of Wellington's (West Riding Regiment—33rd), South Staffordshire Regiment (38th), Welsh Regiment (41st), Loyal North Lancashire Regiment (47th), Princess Charlotte of Wales's (Royal Berkshire Regiment—49th), Royal Marines, Queen's Own (Royal West Regiment—57th and 77th), Border Regiment (55th), Duke of Cambridge's Own (Middlesex Regiment—57th and 77th), Manchester Regiment (63rd), Durham Light Infantry (68th), Rifle Brigade.

"Then shall our names,
Familiar in his mouth as household words,
Be in their flowing cups freshly remembered."

Honourable Artillery Company. . . . The

Incorporated by Henry VIII., 25th August, 1537.

The H.A.C., the abridged title by which they are now generally known, was incorporated by Henry VIII, on the 25th August, 1537, under the title of the Fraternity or Guild of St. George, for the practice of Military Exercises and Training, and "for the better encrease of the defence of this or Realme."

It has long been famous as the oldest Military body in the British Empire, having been formed more than a century before any other Corps of the Regular Army or Auxiliary Forces.

In consideration of its antiquity, Her Majesty was graciously pleased to command in General Orders, dated 1st June, 1883, that it should take precedence next after the Regular Forces, or senior to the Militia, Yeomanry, and Volunteers.

The first Head-Quarters were near the Tower of London, and called the Old Artillery Garden, where they remained from about 1540 to 1658. In 1641 the Company obtained the ground they now occupy at Finsbury.

The H.A.C. has always been a separate and independent force, distinct from the Ancient Trained Bands or Militia.

At the time of the Spanish Armada, in 1588, the H.A.C. furnished many of the Officers for the forces assembled at Tilbury and elsewhere, who were styled "Captains of the Artillery Garden."

The Company has always been selected to take part in all State Ceremonials, such as the Coronation of the Sovereign, National Thanksgivings, and similar occasions.

The Ancient Vellum Book is the oldest and most interesting document now in the possession of the Company. It contains the Roll of Members between 1611 and 1682 beautifully engrossed on vellum. All the earlier books and plate were lost or destroyed during the Civil Wars.

It contains amongst others the autograph signatures of the Captain-Generals, including most of the Sovereigns from the time of Charles II.

The Captain=Generals and Colonels since 1660 have been:—

H.R.H. JAMES, DUKE OF YORK, afterwards JAMES II. WILLIAM III.

H.R.H. GEORGE, PRINCE OF DENMARK, (Consort of Queen Anne).

H R.H. GEORGE, PRINCE OF WALES, afterwards GEORGE II.

H.R.H. GEORGE AUGUSTUS FREDERICK, PRINCE OF WALES, afterwards GEORGE IV.

H.R.H. AUGUSTUS FREDERICK, DUKE OF SUSSEX.

H.R.H. THE PRINCE CONSORT.

H.R.H. ALBERT EDWARD, PRINCE OF WALES.

The Autographs of distinguished Members in the Vellum Book, between the years 1664—1683, include amongst

The Marquis of Worcester, Earl of Plymouth, John Churchill (afterwards Duke of Marlborough), Prince Rupert, The Duke of Buckingham, George Monk (First Duke of Albemarle), The Duke of Monmouth, Duke of Ormond, Earl of Manchester, Earl of Ossory, Earl of Norwich (afterwards Duke of Norfolk), George Legge (First Earl of Dartmouth), Earl of Queensbury, Earl of Oxford, Duke of Somerset, Duke of Hamilton, Earl of Salisbury, John Milton, Christopher Wren, and many others too numerous to mention.

The H. A. C. now consists of a Battery of Horse Artillery, a Battery of Field Artillery armed with 9 pounder, M. L. Guns, and a Battalion of Infantry. The Artillery uniform is similar to that of the Royal

WWW.

The Queen will leave Windsor Castle shor'ly before 4 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon. Her Majesty and suite will drive to the South Western Station and travel by special train to Farnborough, which will be reached about 20 minutes to 5.

H.R.H. The Duke of Connaught, with Colonel A. S. Wynne, C.B., D.A.G., Colonel C. W. H. Douglas, A.D.C., A.A.G., and Lieutenant, the Master of Ruthven, A.D.C., will receive Her Majesty on the platform.

A detachment of Cavalry will escort Her Majesty to the Queen's Parade.

The A.A.G. will lead the escort along the Farnborough—Farnham Road, turning to the left at the Queen's Hotel, passing the Officers' Quarters, Marlborough Lines, as far as the Cranbrook Road, thence to the 2nd Brigade Guardroom, Oudenarde Barracks, and debouching thence on to the Queen's Parade, where the Presentation of Colours to the 3rd Battalion Coldstream Guards by Her Majesty will take place.

A Royal Salute will be fired from the west end of Cove Plateau as Her Majesty passes the Swan Inn.

The 2nd Infantry Brigade will line the route from the Queen's Hotel to the 2nd Brigade Guardroom, Oudenarde Barracks. The General Officer commanding the Brigade (Major-General W. O. Barnard) and Staff, will be at the point of entry on the Lynchford Road.

The Officers of the Headquarters' Staff, and District Staff will be drawn up on the Queen's Parade, and will take their places according to the "Order of March" as the procession passes.

The Presentation of Colours

to the 3rd Battalion Coldsteam Guards will take place at 5 o'clock.

All the three battalions of Goldstream Guards will be present.

1st Battalion Coldstream Guards, Eight Companies.
Colonel Graves Sawle.

2nd Battalion Coldstream Guards, Six Companies.
Colonel Pole Carew.

3rd Battalion Coldstream Guards, Three Companies.

The 1st Scot Guards, under Colonel Mildmay Willson, now at Pirbright, are to keep the ground during the ceremony.

Colonel, the Hon. H. Corry will be in command, and the Field Officer and Adjutant in Brigade Waiting will be in attendance on Her Majesty The Queen.

The troops are to be in Review order, with the officers dressed as for guard of honour.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the Battalions of Foot Guards will leave Aldershot.

There will be a special Guard's enclosure and one for Aldershot District.

There will be accommodation also for the general public. Admission to the two enclosures will be by personal card. Carriages will remain behind the enclosures and horses must be removed to the north end of the Queen's Parade.

The Queen will stay overnight at the Pavilion. On Wednesday evening, the band of the 4th King's Royal Rifles, under Mr. C. H. Hassell, will be in attendance, and on Thursday evening this duty will be undertaken by the Musicians of the Carabineers.

The Royal Review which will be the chief event associated with the visit of Her Majesty, will probably be the last which the Queen will attend while H.R.H. The Duke of Connaught is in command of the Aldershot district, as in the ordinary course of events, H.R.H. will vacate the Appointment in October, and will take place on Thursday, at five o'clock (and not at 11.45 a.m. as previously arranged).

The March Past will take place along the new passing line for the first time, since the enlargement of the Plain.

By special command of Her Majesty, the 2nd Battalion Gordon Highlanders will be played past at the Review, by the Pipers, instead of by the band of the Batallion.

Her Majesty will leave Farnborough, by special train on Friday.

THE NATIONAL ANTHEM.

Dr. John Bull.

Happy and glorious,

Long to reign over us,

God save the Queen!

(Solo-MISS EDITH SERPELL.)

O Lord our God, arise!
Scatter her enemies,
And make them fall!
Confound their politics,
Frustrate their knavish tricks,
On Thee our hopes we fix,
God save us all!

Song ... "John Bull's Jack" ... Hallé.

MR. A. H. GEE.

OHN Bull's Jack is the ensign of the world,
Old England shall conquer where'er it is unfurled;
It fills our sons with valour, and they ne'er will turn their back,
When England calls them forward to defend old John Bull's Jack.

Then raise it high and let it fly unsullied to the world,
On land no foe can stand us, on sea no fleet command us,
Old England's victorious where'er it is unfurled.

It's led the ways on mighty days, and so it will again,
Drake and glorious Nelson, and such undying men.
God bless our British heroes then, and safely bring them back
When John Bull calls them forward to defend the Union Jack.
Then raise it high and let it fly unsullied to the world,
On land no foe can stand us, on sea no fleet command us,
Old England's victorious where'er it is unfurled.

We trust our heavenly Father, Who is standing on our side, Who made the mighty merciful, in peace and love will guide; But when a war o'ertakes us then—'tis God defend the right. Though peace with honour is in our hearts, we're not afraid to fight.

Each man will do his duty then, as in the days gone by, Old England still expects her men to conquer or to die, And they'll do it or they'll die.

Then raise it high and let it fly unsullied to the world.

They may riddle us and rend us, but no mortal foe can bend us,

For the living God defends us, and we can defy the world.

we can defy the world.

Song ... "The Wearin' of the Green" ... (New Version.)

MISS FLORENCE VENNING.

H! Paddy dear, and did ye hear
The news in Dublin town?
The Queen of Ireland's coming
With the Shamrock in her crown.
And she's made a law without a flaw,
No statesman can gainsay,
That all the world must wear the Green
Upon St. Patrick's Day.
Every soldier, every sailor,
Every man from east to west,
Every woman, rich and poor alike,
Each babe upon the breast,
From the Castle to the cabin,
From assembly to shebeen,
There's not a soul that dare deny
The wearing of the Green.

There's a flag all green and golden, Splashed about with spots of red, 'Tis from the flood of Irish blood For Queen Victoria shed. Erin darling, then, leave politics This blessed day alone, And shout " Cead Mille Failthe" To the Lady on the throne. With the Queen as Lord Lieutenant, Making laws herself so grand, With St. Patrick at her elbow Standing cross and sword in hand, Let the tune be "God save Ireland," And the words "God save the Queen," For every heart must bear a part In the wearing of the Green.

Words by HAROLD BOULTON.

BALLAD ... "Poor Wand'ring One" ... Sullivan.

("Pirates of Penzance.")

MISS EDITH SERPELL.

OOR wand'ring one,
Tho' thou hast surely strayed,
Take heart of grace,
Thy steps retrace,
Poor wand'ring one.

If such poor love as mine Can help thee find True peace of mind, Why take it, it is thine.

Take heart, no danger low'rs,
Take any heart but ours;
Take heart, fair days will shine,
Take any heart, take mine.

SONG ... "The Admiral's Broom" ... Bevan.

MR. A. H. GEE.

AN TROMP was an Admiral brave and bold,
The Dutchman's pride was he;
And he cried, "I'll reign on the rolling main,
As I do on my Zuyder Zee."
And as he paced his quarter deck,
And look'd o'er the misty tide,
He saw Old England, like a speck,
And he shook his fist and cried,
"I've a broom at the fore," said he:
"For a broom is the sign for me,
That the world may know, wherever I go,
I sweep the mighty sea."

Now Blake was an Admiral true as gold,
And he walked by the English sea,
And when he was told of that Dutchman bold,
A merry laugh laugh'd he;
And he cried, "Ho! ho! and away we'll go.
Come aboard, my merry men, with me,
And we'll drive this Dutchman down below,
To the bottom of the Zuyder Zee.
His broom may be trim and gay,
But we'll haul it down to-day,
When he says he'll sweep the mighty deep,
'Tis a game that two can play."

Then he cried, "Come here, you Dutchman queer, To-day you must fight with me; For while I ride on the rolling tide, I'll be second to none," said he. So he blaz'd away at the Dutchman gay, Till he made Mynheer to fall. Then he hoisted a whip at the mast of his ship, And cried to his merry men all, "I've a whip at the fore," said he, "For a whip is the sign for me. That wherever we go, the world may know, We ride and rule the sea."

SOLO "When I was a child of three" Ivan Caryll.

MISS FLORENCE VENNING.

HEN I was a child of three, heigh ho! long ago! Happy as a child could be, heigh ho! long ago! I'd a little doll whose eyes

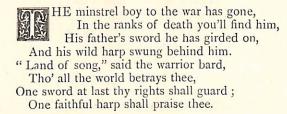

Shone as blue as summer skies: Though she never spoke a word, Yet I quite believed she heard Every childish hope and fear, That I whispered in her ear; All my griefs to her I told, In those nursery days of old, When I was a child of three, heigh ho! long ago!

Even as the years went by, heigh ho! long ago! Faithful to my doll was I, heigh ho! long ago! Time had dulled her eyes of blue. Rosy cheeks had lost their hue, Shabby was her dainty dress, Yet I loved her none the less; For to me it always seemed That she shared the dreams I dreamed And the secrets that I told As in nursery days of old, When I was a child of three, heigh ho! long ago!

Childish toys are thrown away, heigh ho! long ago! I have grown too old for play, heigh ho! long ago! Friends I have both old and new, Some are false and some are true. Some who praise and some who blame, None who's ever quite the same As the friend I can't forget. As the doll I still regret When my foolish fancy strays To the dear old nursery days, When I was a child of three, heigh ho! long ago!

... "The Minstrel Boy" ... SONG ... Moore.

MISS EDITH SERPELL.

The minstrel fell! But the foeman's chain Could not bring his proud soul under. The harp he lov'd ne'er spoke again, For he tore its cords asunder— And said, "No chains shall sully thee, Thou soul of love and bravery, Thy songs were made for the pure and free, They shall never sound in slavery."

RECITATION ... "For One Night only"... ... Marsh. MR. VALENTINE HILL.

... "Mary of Argyle" ... ... Nelson. BALLAD ... MR. ARTHUR WESTON.

HAVE heard the mavis singing His love song to the morn, I have seen the dewdrop clinging To the rose, just newly born.

But a sweeter song has cheer'd me At the evening's gentle close, And I've seen an eye still brighter Than the dewdrop on the rose. 'Twas thy voice, my gentle Mary, And thine artless winning smile That has made this world an Eden, Bonnie Mary of Argyle.

Tho' thy voice may lose its sweetness,
And thine eye its brightness too,
Tho' thy step may lack its fleetness,
And thine hair its sunny hue,
Yet, to me wilt thou be dearer
Than all the world can own;
I have lov'd thee for thy beauty
But not for that alone.
I have watch'd thy heart, dear Mary,
And its goodness was the wile
That has made me thine for ever,
Bonnie Mary of Argyle.

FINALE ... "Good Night" ... S. Smith.

GAIN, again, we raise the voice of song,
To heighten joys we'd fain prolong,
For music can a charm impart
To every impulse of the heart.
But longest day must have a close,
And wearied hearts must seek repose,
So we will quit this scene so bright,
And now we'll say "Good Night."

FORM OF SERVICE

FOR THE

Consecration of the Colours

BY THE RIGHT REVEREND

THE BISHOP OF FREDERICTON.

The Choir will sing the following Hymn, in which all present are requested to join:

Brightly gleams our banner,
Pointing to the sky,
Cheering toilworn soldiers
On to Victory.
Ready for the warfare,
Gladly thus we pray,
And with hearts united,
Take our onward way.

Brightly gleams our banner, Pointing to the sky. Cheering toilworn soldiers On to Victory.

Jesu, Lord and Master,
At Thy sacred feet
There with hearts rejoicing,
See Thy soldiers meet.
Often have we left Thee,
Often gone astray,
Keep us, mighty Saviour,
In the narrow way.

Brightly gleams, etc.

All our days direct us,
In the way we go,
Lead us on victorious,
Over every foe;
Bid Thine angels shield us,
When the storm clouds low'r,
Pardon, Lord, and save us,
In the last dread hour.

Brightly gleams, etc.

Then with saints and angels,
May we join above,
Offering prayers and praises,
At Thy throne of love.
When the strife is over,
Then come rest and peace,
Jesus, in His beauty,
Songs that never cease.

Brightly gleams our banner,
Pointing to the sky.
Cheering toilworn soldiers
On to Victory.

Amen.

Then shall the Bishop say:

EARLY beloved in the Lord, Forasmuch as men at all times have made for themselves signs and emblems of their allegiance to their rulers, and of their duty to uphold those laws and institutions which God's Providence has called them to obey; we, following this natural and pious custom, and remembering that God Himself led His people Israel by a pillar of fire by night, and a pillar of cloud by day, are met together before God this day to ask His blessing on these Colours, which are to represent to us our duty towards our Sovereign and our Country. Let us, therefore, pray Almighty God of His mercy to grant that they may never be unfurled save in the cause of justice and righteousness; and that He may make them to be to those who follow them a sign of His presence with them in all dangers and distresses, and may increase their faith and hope in Him who is the King of kings and Lord of lords.

V. Our help is in the Name of the Lord,
EV. Who bath made beaven and earth.
V. The Lord be with you,
EV. And with thy spirit.

Let us pray.

Lord, have mercy upon us,

Christ, have mercy upon us.

Lord, have mercy upon us.

All present are requested to join audibly in saying the Lord's Prayer.

UR Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy Name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth, As it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, As we forgive them that trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation; But deliver us from evil: For thine is the kingdom, The power, and the glory, For ever and ever. Amen.

ALMIGHTY and everlasting God, we are taught by Thy Holy Word, that the hearts of kings are in Thy rule and governance, and that Thou dost dispose and turn them as it seemeth best to Thy godly wisdom: We humbly beseech Thee so to dispose and govern the heart of EDWARD thy servant, our King and Governour, that, in all his thoughts, words, and works, he may ever seek Thy honour and glory, and study to preserve Thy people committed to his charge, in wealth, peace, and godliness: Grant this, O merciful Father, for thy dear Son's sake, Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

GOD, the protector of all that trust in Thee, without whom nothing is strong, nothing is holy; Increase and multiply upon us thy Mercy; that Thou being our Ruler and Guide, we may so pass through things temporal, that we finally lose not the things eternal: Grant this, O Heavenly Father, for Jesus Christ's sake, our Lord. Amen.

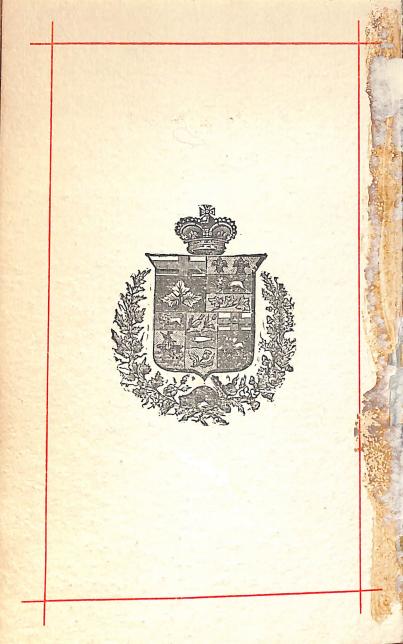

Then shall the Bishop lay his hands upon the Colours, and say:

IN the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, we do dedicate and set apart these Colours, that they may be a sign of our duty towards our King and Country in the sight of God. Amen.

( ) LORD, who rulest over all things, accept, we beseech Thee, our service this day. Bless what we have blessed in Thy Name. Let Thy gracious favour rest on those who shall follow the Colours now committed to their trust. Give them courage; and may their courage ever rest on their sure confidence in Thee. May they show selfcontrol in the hour of success, patience in time of adversity; and may their honour lie in seeking the honour and glory of Thy great name. May they walk worthily of the vocation to which they are called, in dependence on Thy blessed will, and mindful that without Thee they can do nothing. Guide the counsels of those who shall lead them, and sustain them by help in the time of need. Grant they may all so faithfully serve Thee in this life, that they fail not finally to obtain an entrance into Thy heavenly kingdom, through the merits of Thy Blessed Son, Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Blessing.

THE blessing of God Almighty, the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost, be amongst you and remain with you always. Amen.

Processional bymn 601.

THE God of Abraham praise, At whose supreme command From earth we rise, and seek the jovs At His right hand; We all on earth forsake, Its wisdom, fame, and power: And Him our only portion make, Our shield and Tower.

Though nature's strength decay. And earth and hell withstand, To Canaan's bounds we urge our way At His command. The watery deep we pass,

With Jesus in our view; And through the howling wilderness Our way pursue.

The goodly land we see, With peace and plenty blest; A land of sacred liberty And endless rest : There, milk and honey flow, And oil and wine abound. And trees of life for ever grow, With mercy crown'd.

There dwells the Lord our King, The Lord our righteousness. Triumphant o'er the world of sin, The Prince of Peace: On Sion's sacred height His kingdom He maintains, And glorious with His saints in light For ever reigns.

Before the Saviour's Face The ransom'd nations bow, O'erwhelm'd at His Almighty grace For ever new; He shows His prints of love,-They kindle to a flame! And sound through all the worlds above The slaughter'd Lamb.

The whole triumphant host Give thanks to God on high: "Hail! Father, Son, and Holy Ghost," They ever cry: Hail! Abraham's God and mine! (I join the heavenly lays), All might and majesty are Thine,

And endless praise. AMEN.

Psalm 122.

WAS glad when they said unto me: We will go into the house of the Lord.

- 2 Our feet shall stand in thy gates: O Jerusalem.
- 3 Jerusalem is built as a city: that is at unity in itself

- 4 For thither the tribes go up, even the tribes of the Lord: to testify unto Israel, to give thanks unto the Name of the Lord.
- 5 For there is the seat of judgement: even the seat of the house of David.
- 6 O pray for the peace of Jerusalem: they shall prosper that love thee.
- 7 Peace be within thy walls: and plenteousness within thy palaces.
- 8 For my brethren and companions' sakes: I will wish thee prosperity.
- 9 Yea, because of the house of the Lord our God: I will seek to do thee good.

Psalm 46.

GOD is our hope and strength: a very present help in trouble.

- 2 Therefore we will not fear, though the earth be moved: and though the hills be carried into the midst of the sea.
- 3 Though the waters thereof rage and swell: and though the mountains shake at the tempest of the same.
- 4 The rivers of the flood thereof shall make glad the city of God: the holy tabernacle of the most Highest.
- 5 God is in the midst of her, therefore shall she not be removed: God shall help her, and that right early.
- 6 The heathen make much ado, and the kingdoms are moved: but God hath shewed his voice, and the earth shall melt away.
- 7 The Lord of hosts is with us: the God of Jacob is our refuge.
- 8 O come hither, and behold the works of the Lord: what destruction he hath brought upon the earth.
- 9 He maketh wars to cease in all the world: he breaketh the bow, and knappeth the spear in sunder, and burneth the chariots in the fire.
- 10 Be still then, and know that I am God: I will be exalted among the heathen, and I will be exalted in the earth.
- 11 The Lord of hosts is with us: the God of Jacob is our refuge.

Ce Deum.

WE praise thee, O God; we acknowledge thee to be the Lord.

All the earth doth worship thee: the Father everlasting.

To thee all Angels cry aloud: the Heavens, and all the Powers therein.

To thee Cherubin, and Seraphin: continually do cry,

Holy, Holy, Holy: Lord God of Sabaoth:

Heaven and earth are full of the Majesty; of Thy Glory.

The glorious company of the Apostles: praise thee.

The goodly fellowship of the Prophets: praise thee.

The noble army of Martyrs: praise

The holy Church throughout all the forld: doth acknowledge thee,

The Father: of an infinite Majesty:

Thine honourable true: and only Son: A lso the Holy Ghost : the Comforter. 'hou art the King of Glory: O Christ. Thou art the everlasting Son: of the Fa ther.

Withen thou tookest upon thee to deliniver man: thou didst not abhor the Vi rgin's womb.

When thou hadst overcome the sharpess of death: thou didst open the Kingdom of Heaven to all believers.

Thou sittest at the right hand of God: n the Glory of the Father.

We believe that thou shalt come: to be our Judge.

We therefore pray thee, help thy servants: whom thou hast redeemed with thy precious blood.

Make them to be numbered with thy Saints: in glory everlasting.

O Lord, save thy people: and bless thine heritage.

Govern them: and lift them up for

Day by Day: we magnify thee;

And we worship thy Name: ever world without end.

Vouchsafe, O Lord: to keep us this day without sin.

O Lord have mercy upon us: have mercy upon us.

O Lord let thy mercy lighten upon us: as our trust is in thee.

O Lord, in thee have I trusted: let me r be confounded.

The Creed.

BELIEVE in God the Father Almighty, Maker of Heaven and earth:

And in Jesus Christ his only Son our Lord, Who was conceived by the Holy Ghost, Born of the Virgin Mary, Suffered under Pontius Pilate, Was crucified, dead, and buried. He decended into hell; The third day he rose again from the dead, He ascended into heaven, and sitteth on the right hand of God the Father Almighty; From thence he shall come to judge the quick and the dead.

I believe in the Holy Ghost; The holy Catholick Church; The Communion of Saints; The Forgiveness of sins; The Resurrection of the body, And the life everlasting. AMEN.

Bumn 175.

CONQUERING kings their titles take From their foes they captive make: Jesus, by a nobler deed, From the thousands he hath freed.

Yes: none other name is given Unto mortals under heaven, Which can make the dead arise. And exalt them to the skies.

That which Christ so hardly wrought That which he so dearly bought, That salvation, brethren say, Shall we madly cast away?

Rather gladly for that name Bear the cross, endure the shame; Joyfully for Him to die Is not death but victory.

Jesu, who dost condescend To be called the sinner's friend. Hear us, as thee we pray, Glorying in Thy name to-day.

Glory to the Father be, Glory, Holy Son to Thee. Glory to the Holy Ghost, From the Saints and Angel-host. AMEN.

bvmn 292.

PRAISE the Lord! ye heavens, adore Him,

Praise Him, Angels, in the height; Sun and moon, rejoice before Him. Praise Him, all ye stars and light, Praise the Lord! for He hath spoken, Worlds His mighty voice obey'd; Laws which never shall be broken

For their guidance hath He made. Praise the Lord! for He is glorious; Never shall His promise fail: God hath made His Saints victorious, Sin and death shall not prevail.

Praise the God of our salvation; Hosts on high, His power proclaim; Heaven and earth and all creation Laud and magnify His name.

THE DUKE AND DUCHESS OF CORNWALL AND YORK REPRESENTING KING EDWARD VII

ON THEIR VISIT TO THE CANADIAN PEOPLE, SEPT. 1901.

ITH myriad voices mingled and upcaught, In two tongues married in a single thought, One hope, one fealty, one purpose and one heart, All hail! we shout with our free flag outroiled: The rising sun hears welcome! as he sets Welcome, and welcome! from the dripping nets Of Nova Scotia, to the verge of the chart, Where the grim Yukon thaws her stones to gold.

HE Ophir climbs the shoulder of the world, Leaving the sultry seas with isles empearled. Where India smoulders in the torrid light, Australia and her welded destinies: She crashes through the crests on Cartier's track, And floats where Champlain moored and Frontenac, Where bold Lasalle dreamed of the Western Seas, And Wolfe victorious lion-crowned the height.

NOW in the freedom thou and thine make free, Thy joyous people shout aloud to thee, One hope, one fealty, one purpose and one heart: In thee we hail the presage of the hour. Old England federate of her utmost isles, One from the lone lodge where the trapper piles His Beaver skins, to where in nervous power, London lies triumphing in her trampled mart.

Original Hymn, expressly written by David Duncan Fletcher, Esq., for the Victoria Diamond Festival.

Father, our God and Lord,
Hear Thou our carnest word
Piercing the sky.
Bless now the noble Queen,
Whose days have surely been
Fairest on earth yet seen,
God bless the Queen.

List to the Nation's cry,
Father to her be nigh,
Give her sweet peace.
Wide o'er the land her name,
Sounded with loud acclaim,
Tells to the earth her fame,
God bless the Queen.

God bless the queen whose power
Ever in darksome hour
Stood for the Right.
People of every race
Turn to her mother-face,
Joy at her queenly grace,
God bless the Queen.

People of Western Land,
From thy almighty hand,
Blessing we crave.
From heaven's ethereal dome,
Still let thy favors come,
Then in eternal home
God bless the Queen.

The following verses are selected from the Jubilee Hymns sung throughout Great Britain, Sunday, June 20th, 1897:

O King of kings, whose reign of old
Hath been from everlasting,
Before whose throne their crowns of gold
The white robed saints are casting;
While all the shining courts on high
With angel songs are ringing,
Oh, let thy children venture nigh,
Their lovely homage bringing!

For every heart made glad by Thee,
With thankful praise is swelling;
And every tongue, with joy set free,
Its happy theme is telling.
Thou hast been mindful of Thine own,
And lo! we come confessing—
'Tis Thou hast dowered our queenly throne
With sixty years of blessing.

Into the War Office and at Mariborough House inquirers poured in a continuous stream, and at Buckingham Palace quite a crowd had assembled before the news was 20 minutes old.

A very strong rumour has gained currency that an operation became necessary, and was successfully erformed this morning, but that, although the King's medical attendants are satisfied with the result, it was found to be quite impossible for him to attend Thursday's ceremony.

"I am not sure," was the expression used, "but I think you may say that the chances of a very serious relapse or of an even worse result are extremely remote."

THE KING'S MESSAGE.

The following statement was issued by the Duke of Norfolk this after noon :-

The Earl Marshal has received King's commands to express His Majesty's deep sorrow that owing to his serious illness the Coronation ceremony must be postponed.

All celebrations in London will, in consequence, be likewise postponed, but it is the King's earnest hope that the celebrations in the country shall be held as already arranged.

The distlessing news of the King's illness was quickly made known officially by the Lord Mayor from the Mension House To see the there was the keeper deampointment and grief on every hand gives but a faint representation of the prevailing feeling among the populace. Everyone seemed thunderstruck, and there was the utmost disinclination to accept the news until official confirmation left no further room for doubt.

The sad announcement was made known to the Lord Mayor by the Lord Chamberlain, who drove in person to the Chamberlain, who drove in person to the Marsion House this afternoon. It was impossible for Sir Joseph Dinsdale to make the news known to the public in a general way owing to the fact that the whole front of the Mansion House is covered with stands.

The news, however, soon spread about the City, and then the Mansion House was besieged with inquirers auxious to ascertain whether the news was true or and passed on.

The big black-letter bills of THE SUN. with its special editions, came down the highway, and still the people were incredulous. They simply would not believe that the astounding news could be true. But the repetitions and elaborations of the story in the successive editions brought despair to their hearts; the official confirmation drove away the last vestige of hope from their

Then as by an instinct of community they fled from the streets—one mighty throng to the gates of Buckingham Palace, the other surging around the Mansion House.

Strangers stopped awhile to exchange condolences one with the other. Each man with a newspaper was the centre of a little crowd of eager faces pairing over his shoulders.

EMPTYING STREETS.

Nothing more strongly illustrative of the Englishman's adaptability to a situation can well be imagined than the aspect of the streets. Already they are resuming their normal aspect. The holiday crowds have disappeared. In the moment of the posting of the bulletin an army cf workmen, springing up as if from the earth, began to tear down the great stand in front of the Mansion House. So, too, with that at the Law Courts. On every hand workmen are busily removing the hoardings, and thousands of seats are crumbling into nothingness.

From nearly half the houses on the line of route the flags have been taken in, it is to be hoped only for a brief space. Every cab is piled with luggage, and bearing saddened travellers to the trains. North, south, east, and west goes the provident provincial, half his year's savings expended upon a fruitless errand.

AT THE ABBEY.

At Westminster Abbey, where the Coronation choir should have rehearsed a portion of the coming services, the Bishop of London announced to the assembled choir boys that the Coronation was put off, the

King having to undergo an operation

The choir boys were then sorrowfully dismissed. There were over 400 members of the Coronation choir assembled at the time.

sir Frederick Bridge himself spoke of the King's illness, and the announcement fell like a thunderbolt upon the choristers.

OUTSIDE BUCKINGHAM PALACE.

It was not until between twelve and one o'clock that the news reached the large assembled crowd outside Buckingham Palace. They had gathered in large numbers to witness the arrivals of envoys and representatives of foreign Sovereigns.

The foreign officers in uniform and the Indian representatives in their turbans made a brilliant show, and it was quickly noticed, however, on arrival that they only made a very short stay.

Then the whisper went round, and a moment later the sad news spread among the thousands assembled, who discussed the report with bated breath and unmistakeable consternation.

IN THE LAW COURTS.

At one o'clock Mr. Justice Grantham stopped the proceedings of his Court and informed the jury that he had heard the Coronation ceremony had been post-poned. His lordship then retired from the Bench for a brief space, and on his return stated that the news was perfectly

In any event, however, the postpone-ment of the Coronation almost at the ment of the Coronation almost at the last minute will cause considerable inconvenience to suitors and others who have made their arrangements on the assumption that there would be no sitting of the Courts on the last three days of the week.

Mr. Justice Bruce, on taking his seat after luncheon in the King's Bench Division to-day, had an application made by counsel for the postponement of the hear-counsel for the postponement of the hearing of a case until after the Coronation.

In reply he said the Coronation had been postponed, and the Courts. instead of being adjourned for three days, as originally arranged, would probably sit as usual. The postponement of the Coronation would in any case alter their arrangements. As to the case in question, it might go to the hottom of the list. might go to the bottom of the list.

THE KING AS SEEN YESTERDAY. The illness of His Majesty has been felt all the more, and the postponement of the ceremony has caused the greater disappointment, because of the optimistic reports that have been published daily of the improvement in the King's condi-

a heavy overcost, despite the hot and sultry day. What was noticed then, but which was not published, was that His Majesty's face appeared drawn, as though he had been in considerable pain.

Despite this fact, the King brightened up considerably under the rousing cheers of the thousands assembled to greet him.

NATURE OF THE ILLNESS.

Perityphlitis is an intestinal affliction. Pertyphilis is an intestinal affliction. It has been noticed to follow an exposure to cold, and also after violent exercise; but it is very doubtful, according to medical authority, whether either of these circumstances alone could be responsible for the attack, though very possibly they are effective accessories.

the attack, though very possibly they are effective accessories. It will be remembered that His Majesty suffered a chill at the recent military tattoo at Aldershot.

The complaint is one in which there is frequently a relapse.

IN THE POLICE-COURT.

Alderman Sir Horatio Davies, M.P., who presided at the Mansion House Police-court, addressing those present, said, "I have just heard with much sadness and profound grief of the sudden, but I hope not serious, illness of His Majesty the King. We all earnestly pray that the Almighty, in His infinite wisdom, may soon restore the King to his sorrowing subjects."

The Lord Mayor made the announcement to a crowded gathering of Livery-men in the following terms:

Brother Liverymen, I am sure that the news which I have just received from the acting Lord Chamberlain will be received by the citizens of London—ever in the foremost rank of patriotism and tone for their Sovereign—with the sincerest sorrow and the sincerest sorrow core in the foremost rank of patriotism rand tove for their Sovereign—with the sincerest sorrow and the sincerest grief, as it was by me and my brethren in the Court of Aldermen. The message which I have received from the hands of the Acting Lord-Chamberlain runs thus:—"The King is suffering from appendicitis. His condition on Saturday was so satisfactory that it was hoped that with care His Majesty would be able to go through the Coronation ceremony, but on Monday a recrudescence became manifest, rendering a surgical operation necessary today. The Coronation ceremony is therefore nostponed, but I may say further that His Majesty, with his usual feeling of sympathy for the poorer portion of his subjects, would desire that his dinner to his poor subjects and also local ceremonials should not be postponed."

Cyrano de Bergerac.

O. Joseph Co.

"YRANO DE BERGERAC, whose ugly nose embittered his whole life, was a very real and very living personage—author, poet, and swashbuckler; a lofty soul in a rugged shell, fighting equally readily with his sword against oppression and bullies as with his pen and his ready tongue against shams and hypocrisies. The only cause he never defended was his own. Too doubtful of his own merits, he let another win the woman he loved; and his poetical imaginings were annexed in his own time and after his death by authors ever in search, then as now, of other people's original ideas. His romance, 'The Voyage to the Moon,' of which such excellent use is made in the Third Act of M. Rostand's Play, was imitated by Swift, and unconsciously, no doubt, by every writer of wonder journeys. Moliere condescended to transfer a whole scene of one of Cyrano's comedies bodily into one of his own, and the world has gone on shaking its sides at Cyrano's wit under Moliere's name.

"Roxane, the heroine of the Play, belonged to the Precieuses, or Exquisites, whose high-flown sentiments were satirized by Moliere in his 'Precieuses Ridicules.' They dabbled in mathematics, astronomy and philosophy. All that was natural was despised. The names given at their birth were too commonplace, so they exchanged them for others; thus 'Madeline Robin' became 'Roxane.' Their conversation consisted for the most part of the fantastic. Everything had to be embroidered in a very filigree of verbiage.

"As for the Cadets of Gascony—those wild, cheery, reckless, irresponsible beings—they formed such a contrast to the Precieuses or Exquisites, that it almost seemed that they were following unwittingly the laws of nature, and were restoring the balance.

The opening scene at the Hotel de Bourgogne presents a vivid picture of the difficult and disturbing surroundings which all Dramatists—including our English Shakespeare—had to face 300 years ago.

Even in the regular places for theatrical entertainment the floor of the house was always left devoid of seats and formed a promenade, or rather bear garden, where the humbler members of the audience crowded upon each other in rude, and often angry, confusion. Here Soldiers, Citizens, Lackeys, Pages, Pick-pockets, Card-sharpers, Flower-girls, Stall-women, reverend Burghers and raffish Bloods, jostled and joked, eat, drank, gambled, trafficked, flirted, and fought before (and even during) the actual performance.

And—as if this were not enough to paralyse any sensitive Actor or confound the labours of the unhappy author—the Fashionable Patrons of the Play were in the habit of occupying stools upon the very stage, from which exalted position they smirked and iested with their less favoured friends on the other side of the foot-lights. Such were the terrors of a première at the beginning of the 17th century. It is curious to reflect that it must have been under conditions very similar to these that the English master first gave his Hamlet to the world for all time to come.
